After being one of the most successful junior road riders in the world, having won the Junior Nation's Cup twice, Pfeiffer began her senior career as the youngest member of Team Sunweb, a set up renowned for nurturing and bringing on young talent. Now Team DSM, Pfeiffer is an integral member of the team as road captain, and helping the team to achieve some exceptional results, dominating the sprints.

Pfeiffer started riding when she was only four. She used to live in Herne Hill, just a couple of minutes away from the world-famous velodrome, often going there with her father, Peter Georgi, who raced internationally. Cycling is a family affair for Pfeiffer, her brother Etienne, mother and grandfather all cycle, so she has been brought up with it.

Pfeiffer started racing when she was six and although she would say she wasn't very good to start with, she enjoyed going with her brother to Castle Combe every Thursday night. When she was about 13 she started getting better and enjoyed cycling even more.

Pfeiffer was first spotted by British Cycling at the National Series and invited on an Olympic regional development apprentice day. From there she has gone on to be multiple National Champion, and winning junior titles.

A career highlight came in late 2021, where Pfeiffer stormed ahead to victory at the British National Championships - an honour to wear the stripes for the season. 2022 has proved a strong season for Pfeiffer, with multiple team victories, and a first WorldTour podium at Postnord Vårgårda WestSweden Road Race . Pfeiffer also went back to the track for the European Track Championships and won a silver in the Elimination Race behind Lotte Kopecky, before clinching a silver medal in the U23 Road Race in the 2022 World Champs after a very strong performance in a challenging race.

Pfeiffer started the 2023 season brilliantly taking her first WorldTour win at Brugge-De Panne launching an exceptional attack to come away with victory.

Her role model is Lizzie Deignan and her main ambition is to become an Olympic and World Champion in the road race and time trial.
