

Susanne Andersen

Road Cyclist

Norway National Road Race Champion 2023

From: Stavanger, Norway
Date of birth: 23rd July 1998
Lives and trains: Stavanger, Norway
Team: Uno-X

Former Norwegian National Champion Susanne is a fast punchy rider who is a member of the Women's World Tour road team, Uno-X.

Susanne has been into sport since a very young age playing football before getting into cycling after borrowing a bike from a local cycling club, and quickly getting hooked.

Success came in 2015 when Susanne was Norwegian National Junior Champion in the ITT and Cyclo-cross and runner up in the Road Race. The following year, she won the double (ITT and Road Race), before riding to a 3rd place podium in the Road Race at the Junior UCI World Championships in Doha. In 2017, Susanne progressed to be an elite rider in the peloton, coming an impressive 7th in the World Championships Road Race in Bergen.

After starting with Team DSM, Susanne took the opportunity to join Norwegian team Uno-X in 2022 when they joined the peloton. Now Susanne loves nothing more than the Spring Classics.
