

REBECCA CHARLTON

TV Presenter, Journalist, Commentator, Voice Over artist & Event Host

With over 15 years experience, Rebecca can be found presenting and commentating on channels including Discovery/Eurosport/GCN and ITV and regularly on YouTube and other digital platforms. Rebecca also often moderates and hosts large-scale stage panel sessions and Q&As at events such as Rouleur Live, The National Cycling Show and other corporate events such as brand launches. Rebecca also has experience doing in venue commentary at events such as Ford RideLondon.

Having raced in several disciplines of competitive cycling from a young age Rebecca brings a particular wealth of knowledge on the sport. Rebecca hosts and creates an abundance of online content pieces, including regular cycling brand updates, reviews and previously hosted an online magazine show focussing on the women’s peloton, The Bunnyhop. This series included filmed content features and live discussions on latest news, races and key conversation topics across the 2021 cycling season. Rebecca was the face of the Zwift Academy show in 2020 on YouTube and presented the Six Day Virtual Series during the pandemic.

After sharing the news that she was expecting her first child in early 2022, Rebecca went behind the scenes in development, and in front of the camera for the Bump and Ride series with Road CC, documenting her pregnancy journey and sharing valuable experiences. Mila was born in May 2022 and Rebecca is loving life as a mum alongside her work.

As well as contributing to a number of magazines on all things fitness and cycling, Rebecca is an event host and public speaker. Rebecca also wrote for the record-breaking Rouleur Issue 101, and has also co-written two cycling fitness books with Bloomsbury. Rebecca also made her debut on BBC Radio 4 in 2018 hosting a well received Food Programme edition at the Giro d'Italia discussing rider nutrition with team chefs, riders and nutritionists. Rebecca has featured in TV adverts for British Airways, Dell and Samsung as well as modelling for sports magazine covers.

Rebecca has also used her extensive cycling knowledge to mentor corporate teams to take part in events such as Ride London and to undertake motivational speaking opportunities, and also been a key chaperone rider and motivator on charity rides such as London 2 Paris.
