

SUSANNE ANDERSEN

Road Cyclist – Team Uno-X

UCI Women's WorldTeam rider, multiple National Junior Champion, and National Road Race Champion 2023

Born: Stavanger, Norway

Date of birth: 23rd July 1998

Lives & trains: Stavanger, Norway

Susanne is a talented member of Team Uno-X, a fast and punchy rider on the road in the UCI Women's WorldTour.

Susanne has been into sport since a very young age playing football, and recognised her desire to win. She soon got into cycling after borrowing a bike from a local cycling club, and once she felt the freedom of two wheels, she was hooked.

Success began in 2015 when Susanne was Norwegian National Junior Champion in the ITT and Cyclo-cross and runner up in the Road Race. The following year, she won the double (ITT and Road Race), and also rode to a 3rd place podium in the Road Race at the Junior UCI World Championships in Doha. In 2017, Susanne progressed to be an elite rider in the peloton, coming 7th in the World Championships Road Race in Bergen, a very impressive result and set the bar for things to come.

After some time gaining confidence and motivation at Team DSM, Susanne took the opportunity to join Uno-X in 2022 as a new team in the peloton. Susanne loves to pull on the yellow and red jersey colours and do her best with the team, particularly during the Classics which are her favourite events in the calendar.
