Tiffany is one of the most experienced riders in the Women's WorldTour peloton, riding on both road and gravel as part of Canyon/SRAM zondacrypto since its inception as Specialized Lululemon in 2014. On the road, Tiffany is Road Captain, and in gravel she has achieved individual victories in some of the biggest races on the calendar.

Tiffany has won iconic races such as Omloop Het Nieuwsblad in 2013 and stages of the Giro D'Italia. She has also been a key part of team victories and is now a valuable mentor to the younger generation of riders coming through. She has also had the honour of riding for Australia on multiple occasions. In 2018, Tiffany was Road Captain at a home Commonwealth Games, leading the team to success with team mate Chloe Hosking winning gold. In 2021, she also became an Olympian at the Tokyo games.

2023 was a brilliant gravel season for Tiffany where she won SEVEN, The Gralloch, Unbound 100 and FNLD GRVL, followed by a strong 2024 where she defended her FNLD GRVL title and added victories at Swartberg100 and Sea Otter Europe. In 2025 she continued to be competitive in the discipline, claiming the National title, and is excited to be ambassador of the Gravel World Champs in 2026, taking place in her native Australia.

Off the bike, Tiffany's many Instagram followers enjoy watching her adventures around the world with her partner, F1 driver Valtteri Bottas.
